

I See Horny People (Kreme Classic Book 38)

A highly respected psychologist, Karen Whitman is not used to keeping her patients waiting, especially brand new ones referred to her in need of desperate help. This morning though has been a rough one, traffic bizarrely snarled by abandoned big rigs, chaos pushing her late to an appointment at her office. Thankfully as she is assured by her temp, Ted, the patient is still there, terrified at every movement, waiting quietly in Karens office. In reading over her file, Doctor Whitman discovers this is a most unusual case, Rebecca Landers, 21, otherwise perfectly healthy and normal looking. As she soon discover in talking with Rebecca, nothing could be further from the truth. Laying back on the couch, Rebecca Landers tells her story, the tale of how she discovered that she can see people... horny people... but they dont know they are horny until she sees them. Assuming the strange fixation to be somehow related to how attractive Rebecca is, Karen lets her continue sharing but as she goes on, it soon becomes clear that something is wrong with Rebecca, what she simply describes as a look she sees in peoples eyes, a look that leads to others, and a look which she simply calls the horny look. According to Rebecca no one knows they feel this way until she looks at them, until she notices the trail of lust leading from their eyes elsewhere. Believing at first it was all mere coincidence, that she happened to be witness to unbelievable acts of perversion, acts like the one which happened in the middle of a high school class between a teacher and a student, Rebecca found out too late that she is responsible... she has to be. Will the renowned Doctor Karen Whitman prove to be the one psychologist finally able to help Rebecca or is she too doomed to be one of the horny people before this appointment is over?
