

All About Flying Helicopters (Collected Articles From Flight Training News, 2006-2011 Book 3)

This is the third collection of articles from flying instructor Helen Krasners popular column in the publication Flight Training News. Written at various times over the period 2006 - 2011, this book is aimed at anyone who is interested in helicopter flying, but should be particularly useful for helicopter flight students, people who have a helicopter pilots licence and fly as a leisure activity, or those are aiming to get a helicopter commercial pilots licence in the future. This book consists of 12 articles, has well over 20,000 words, and includes a useful glossary. Topics covered include flying helicopters in marginal weather, flying different helicopter types, and becoming a professional helicopter pilot and/or instructor. The last book in the series will cover Helens experiences of being a flying instructor and useful tips for new instructors.
