

The Victims of Terrorism: An Assessment of Their Influence and Growing Role in Policy, Legislation, and the Private Sector (Occasional Papers)

Organized groups of victims families and friends have emerged since September 11, 2001, to become a powerful voice in U.S. counterterrorist policy and legislation. These groups were remarkably successful in getting the 9/11 Commission established and in getting the commissions most important recommendations enacted. This report documents these groups and compares them to groups formed in response to other terrorist attacks.
