

Little Women (Radio Theatre)

Louisa May Alcott's Little Women is a timeless American classic. Marmee has her hands full. Fathers away in the Civil War and their daughters are growing up so fast. Meg is tenderhearted and romantic. Boisterous Jo the tomboy is always getting into adventures. Shy little Beth is the stay-at-home sister, and golden-haired Amy longs to be a famous artist. Four very different little women who love each other dearly. Like all sisters, they sometimes disagree. Still, when trouble comes to the March family, they face it bravely together. From the award-winning team that brought you The Chronicles of Narnia, these classic stories feature performances by a full cast of actors, including Gemma Jones from Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets and many others. Motion-picture quality sound design.
