Its 1893 and love is starting to warm up in this mountaintop town of Jerome Arizona. This inspirational historical Western romance series is about empowered women who turn around their disabilities and hopeless circumstances in this mid-19th-century tale of the old West. The stories take place in the mining town of Jerome Arizona where there are only a few decent women and lots of nefarious activities. Meet Sophia, an 18-year-old orphan from Atlanta. Her mom died from childbirth, and her dad got killed from a fight outside town when she was 6 years old. Her aunt and uncle took her in but gave her away to a girls house because they don't want to be associated with someone who has a wandering eye. She has made some good friends at the orphanage but time has come for her to leave cause she is already of age. The headmistress suggested she become a mail order bride for a tailor out West. With no options left, she answered the ad and was invited by Noah to come to Jerome for them to get married. Will Sophia already feel the love she longs for in Jerome? Will Noah accept her despite her flaws? Did Sophia and Noah make the right decision or will they regret it forever? Come out West to this boomtown of Jerome, Arizona. Make fine clothes with the only tailor in town Noah, meet the kind and wise pastor and get to know our heroine Sophia, who's already accepted the fact that she's an unlovable person by most everyone standard, but still gives her all in hopes of finding true love.....a story of hope, fear, romance, suspense and true love.....While this book is part of a series, and it can definitely be read as a standalone book.
