Alpha Decisions Steven, a soldier, thinks about his life and how he ended up in the military, where he found someone special; but, as time passes, he questions whether or not he still loves his boyfriend, when the relationship continues to be incredibly dull. Always the same conversations, the same drink, even the sex was dull and always involved the same actions. Steven then ponders whether or not to stay with his boyfriend, and, in turn, begins to spend more time with Dieter, a man he met while on an assignment. In doing this, he notices that even the cold beer that seemed boring to him now tuned into an exciting moment. There, his emotions go through a rollercoaster that has him facing death itself, as he tries to decide whether to stay on the known path, or travel the new and exciting one. This decision will take him to depths of his mind that he never thought he would see, and his final choice introduces him to a world of unexpected pleasures. A soldier is preparing to leave on his most recent assignment when he is given what he thinks is meaningless gift: a phone; but, when hardships come about, he will realize that the unexpected item holds a surprise for him, something he had always dreamed of. The item opens the door for reflections about his life, what he hopes life will bring him, and whether or not he is willing to seize it. During his adventure, he will also learn to use every tool at his disposal, and will be given a reward from destiny, while learning from it an important lesson: attraction does not stay hidden forever. As he discovers all this, a quick show in the middle of the night will open the door for endless possibilities, possibilities that have the potential to change his life forever; most importantly, that will allow him to find love in the most unusual of situations.
