

Sphider 1.3: How to Code Your Own Search Engine Script: Lesson 1

The concept behind this series of booklets is learning how to code by example. Each booklet is very concise, and thus, is not cumbersome to read. It will allow you to digest the information at your own pace and it has been written in simple English, so it is easy to understand. The material that will be studied is an actual search engine script which uses the following web technologies: HTML, CSS, PHP, MySQL, and JS. What each line of code is doing is explained. Additionally, at the end of the course, all lessons will be tied together so you can understand the big picture concepts.
