

Plain Living: The Diary Part One (A Lines from Lancaster County Saga Book 1)

Nineteen-year-old Sadie Zook works in her fathers furniture store in their home town of Ephrata, PA. Witty, devout, and supremely competent, Sadie is keeping a secret. Sadie occupies the little spare time she can find with her secret passion -- writing and illustrating her simple and insightful stories about her life in pastoral Lancaster County. While Sadies writing is mostly thoughtful and even devotional, Sadies wit shows in some of her tales from her fathers store -- sharp delineations of Englisher customers whose ignorance of those who choose to live plain lives reveals Sadies keen talent for description, dialogue, and character development. When twenty-one-year-old Abram Byler discovers Sadies secret stash of writing, he conceals it, reads it, and is initially horrified and chastises Sadie. As he continues to read, though, he discovers that beneath the clever wit, there is a sweet, nurturing soul revealed in the tender depictions of Sadies youngest sisters learning to churn butter. As Abram and Sadie become closer, Abram realizes that sometimes humility means using the talents God bestows.
