

Corba on the Web (Hands-on Web Development)

Second generations Web/CORBA technologies are paving the way for object-orientated, distributed, interoperable systems to be deployed over the Internet. This is the package that shows Web programmers and developers how to exploit these powerful new tools and get a jump on the next wave of the Web. It focuses on software -- especially Ionas OrbixWeb, the leading Web development ORB -- and how to use it. Ben-Natan also reveals how to make CORBA, Java, and JavaBeans work together, and how to construct CORBA firewalls.
